The update will include two new widescreen landscape fixes and some features to prevent the "Red-Eye" effect when using video chats. The update will be available in the next 24 hours and it will automatically download and start installing it once the PlayStation 3 system has restarted. A total of 12 new fixes and enhancements have been implemented in the update, which is available for free. A full list of the fixes is included in the official release notes found on the PlayStation Network. The new release will also include the ability to install some firmware updates over USB connected external storage devices. PS3 users can use the USB update tools to install firmware updates on an external USB drive that's connected to the PS3 system. The USB update tool can only install PS3 update files on USB storage devices that are formatted to FAT32 or NTFS. It cannot install PS3 system update files that are stored on other USB storage devices or on CD-ROMs, DVD-ROMs or Blu-Ray discs. This update will be available to download from the PlayStation Network by entering your PSN user name and password to verify your PSN ID. If you do not have a PlayStation Network ID, you can create one or log into PSN using your PlayStation 3 system's SEN account.

KF Vëllaznimi KF Vëllaznimi is an Albanian football club based in the city of Shkodër, formed in 2017. The club currently competes in the Albanian First Division. History The club was founded on 7 July 2017, after a meeting between the Socialist Party and the Democratic Party of Albania by an agreement in December 2016. The first player to sign for the club was Rilindja e Shkodrasës midfielder Mohammed Shukriu from Botimeti. Vëllaznimi finished bottom of the 2018–19 Albanian First Division and as a result was relegated to the Albanian Second Division for the following season, after the club failed to convince to return to the top flight and compete in the following season. Stadium KF Vëllaznimi plays its home matches at the Stadion Mina, in Shkodër, Albania. The stadium has a capacity of 5,000 spectators.
